

Disneyland and Disney Sea

A: Where shall we go this weekend, Disneyland or Disney Sea?

B: I like Disney Sea better. Disney Land is _____; there _____ in Disney Sea.

A: Really? But Disney Land has _____ than Disney Sea; there are _____ things _____.

B: Yes, that's true. But there are _____ to do in Disney Sea; Disneyland is _____.

A: I know, but I like that better. It's _____ in Disney Sea.

B: Disneyland is _____ Disney Sea. Let's go to one Saturday and one on Sunday.

A: It's _____ if we do half a day each on the same day. Let's do that.

B: But then there's _____ to see everything.

A: Oh! I give up. I'm staying home.

Now do the conversation again, but use the information below.

- Too crowded, isn't as long to wait for rides
- More rides, more, to do
- Less childish things, for younger people
- Easier to enjoy the day
- As much money
- Cheaper
- Too little time
